

Schuberts – first for finishing

'Experience that counts' is Schuberts' slogan and it means what it says. In the 1950s Schuberts were the first to install curtain and roller coaters in the furniture industry and this was followed by linked multi process lines incorporating sanding, lacquering and drying complete with feeders, stackers and all conveyors.

Once again, Schuberts was the innovator. Over 50 years of designing and installing spray rooms and automatic lines for finishing furniture and panels has culminated in highly-developed infra red technology for ultra rapid curing of both water- and solvent-based paints and lacquers.

The ubiquitous Schubox is now in use in over 15 countries around the world with of course hundreds of installations in the UK, not only in furniture but metal, plastics and now glass.

Success with the Schubox was achieved through continuous co-operation with major manufacturers of the coating materials and developments of the catalytic emitter to suit specific applications.

Today, Schuberts is world leader with this technology and this is evidenced by the construction this year
